

BIOMEDevice Rebrands as MEDevice, Informa Markets – Engineering’s Dedicated Platform to Medical Device Innovation

MEDevice continues to serve as the premier conference and event in Boston and Silicon Valley for medical device manufacturing

Santa Monica, CA (May 21, 2024)- Informa Markets Engineering, the leading B2B event producer, publisher and digital media platform for the advanced manufacturing industry, announces industry icon BIOMEDevice’s transition to MEDevice. As part of Informa Markets – Engineering’s leading MD&M event portfolio, MEDevice serves as a catalyst for tomorrow’s groundbreaking medical devices and brings innovation to life by uniting the medtech industry.

Explaining the reason behind the rebrand, Melissa Magestro, VP Informa Markets Engineering states “MEDevice aims to pave the way in medical device manufacturing and the new name reflects our vision to be the most trusted source and partner in pioneering the future of medtech innovation.” Magestro continues, “We wanted the event name to reflect our focus and commitment to connecting the medtech community, and we think MEDevice simply and perfectly states that.”

MEDevice returns this year to the No. 1 and No. 3 most prominent medtech hubs in the nation, Silicon Valley and Boston, and features the products, technology and education that engineers and C-suite leaders from startups to top medical device OEMs need to stay competitive. With the medical device manufacturing industry forecasted to reach $800 billion in revenue by 2030, the marketplace needs a focused platform that offers a closer look at the essential components that make the healthcare industry’s life-saving breakthroughs possible, and MEDevice is that platform.

The newly updated MEDevice events will feature hands-on demos from exhibitors, the introduction of the Power Hour Reverse pitches presented by OEMs, Quick-Connect Matchmaking, keynote presentations on the show floor, innovation showcases and an all-new pavilion dedicated exclusively to medical adhesives, highlighting the category as an important vertical for medtech innovation.

MEDevice Boston (Sep. 25-26), the East Coast’s leading event for the medical technology industry, and MEDevice Silicon Valley (Nov. 20-21), the premier West Coast show connecting engineers and cutting-edge medtech companies, will retain the same locations and continue to facilitate the discovery of innovative components and solutions across automation, robotics, Artificial Intelligence (AI) and more.
